In my opinion [REDACTED] working during the holiday period of 1973 and subsequent forfeiture of leave

STATINTL

I am still not convinced that [REDACTED] forfeiture was caused by an exigency of the public business of such importance that he would be entitled to have the leave restored. He ~~g~~ "gave up", "he appeared more willing to work during the holidays than other members of the staff", indicate that it was a voluntary action. He was not forced to work during this period, others must have taken leave. Were all the personnel in a use of lose situation, or could some of these worked so that he would not have forfeited leave. Also, surely the staff was aware that interviews would have to take ~~xxx~~ place during the holiday perido, did he take any leave prior to this period to avoid forfeiture. What was the period ~~xxx~~ of the exigency, when did it end? When did the CT course start.
